FUTURE LEADERS

James M. Wooten Scholarship

The TMBA Future Leaders Program is dedicated to identifying and cultivating new industry leaders by awarding scholarships to the MBA Future Leaders program.

The scholarship was developed in 1993 and has since become the primary focus for the Future Leaders committee. Now called the Future Leaders/ James M. Wooten Scholarship, the program was designed focus on developing leaders who will guide our organization and our industry in the years to come.

Scholarship winners participate in a CampusMBA series which features three hands-on, executive-level sessions geared toward political activism; business analysis and problem solving; and experiential learning through collaboration, networking and peer group interaction.

SPRING SESSION

Leadership Development and the Federal Legislative Process

April 23-25, 2018 in Washington D.C.

Held in conjunction with MBA's National Advocacy Conference

- Gain a greater understanding of the characteristics of leadership.
- Participate in MBA's National Advocacy Conference and learn about the federal legislative and regulatory processes and the important issues facing the real estate finance industry.
- Receive an introduction to lobbying and gain an understanding of its importance to the legislative process.
- Join other MBA members and meet with elected representatives in Congress during the National Advocacy Conference's Annual Lobby Day.

Each Future Leaders/James M. Wooten Scholarship recipient is asked to return to Texas and share their experience and knowledge from MBAs Future Leaders program. TMBA would also encourage each individual to volunteer at the state level.

SUMMER SESSION

Leadership Practices and Business Acumen

June 5-8, 2018 in

Gettysburg, PA and Washington D.C.

- Participants are divided into teams, and have a chance to use their leadership skills and industry experience to focus on a unique topic.
- Each year, MBA chooses a different timely topic that is relevant to the real estate finance industry. Past topics have centered around economic development, the federal political process and industry issues.
- Team members work together after the summer session to put together a project presentation that is judged by individuals familiar with its objectives.
- A day at the innovative Lincoln Leadership Institute at Gettysburg, which focuses on leadership in a stressful and changing environment. Conducted at the site of the Gettysburg battlefield itself, the Institute offers a dramatic and inspiring look at how the lessons of history can guide leaders today.

CampusMBA's FUTURE LEADERS Program is an executive leadership development program that delivers a comprehensive curriculum for selected middle- and senior-level managers who have shown leadership interests and abilities. Participants enhance their skills through three hands-on sessions geared toward political activism; business analysis and problem solving; and experiential learning through collaboration, networking and peer group interaction. Future Leaders has evolved into a highly recognized program that enhances executive skills and provides an opportunity for participants to develop relationships that last an entire career as it provides networking and development opportunities that are priceless.

FALL SESSION

Project Presentations and Graduation Ceremony

October 14, 2018

Held in conjunction with MBA's Annual Convention & Expo

- During a special open session, class members present their projects to the selected judges.
- A winning project is selected based on predefined criteria and announced at the graduation ceremony.
- Participants also have a chance to experience all that the MBA Annual Convention has to offer: general sessions, workshops, networking events and the exhibit hall.

Since MBA's Future Leaders program has three sessions that are interrelated, and each is an integral component of the curriculum, participants should commit to attend each session. Class members also participate in conference calls and team meetings related to group projects.
